EDITORIALS.

Good morning!

Have you put in your coal for the winter?

Keep on smiling, everything will be all right after while.

Well, maybe there'll be some new faces on Western University Board soon. Hey, Rubel!

The editor is in receipt of an annual pass to the Alachua county exposition, to be held at Gainesville, Fla., beginning November 17. This is one of the best fairs held in the Southland.

All the Segregationists and Negro-phobists are unanimous in urging "Prof. S. Harris as the next spokesman, instead of gallant Monroe Trotter, to place the Negroes' case before President Wilson. But the Negroes want "S. Harris" to have foreign appointment, the "foreigner" the better.

The Star devotes itself to a lengthy sloppy editorial in praise of the Jews, who have never produced a new dollar in this country, but has no voice in behalf of the Negro citizen who has been one of the chief producers and whose blood has been shed many times in defense of the country's honor.

It shows a noticeable awakening spirit in Kansas City Negro teachers that so many decided to attend the State Teachers' Association which is meeting in St. Joseph this week. Our teachers are among the best favored and best paid instructors in the West, and should naturally make themselves felt in all the general educational work of the state.

The Plaindealer laments the defeat of Governor Hodges and regrets that so many people in Kansas still think they are voting for Lincoln. Well, the people in Dixie are still voting for Jeff Davis, and of the two we take Lincoln. The Negroes will find that in the end the party of Grant and Lincoln, which delivered them in the past, will take care of them in the future.

Two able Negro lawyers were honored by Kansas counties with election to the office of prosecuting attorney. One was a Democrat, the other a Progressive. Each was chosen by the votes of white men and women and from the standpoint of ability. Politics produces some good things as well as strange things, and we are waiting to hear what the g. o. p. has to say upon the subject.

Every once in a while some decadent Negro who has sucked the blood out of all his friends and who feels himself slipping into deserved oblivion will place himself into the limelight by some sort of abusive tirade against his own people. He gets so hungry that he does not hesitate, through sedition and treason, to curry favor with the most rabid Negro-haters and can see no good in Negro manhood since he has none himself. Fortunately both white and colored people of ordinary intelligence understand such cattle and they receive but little notice except for their folly and spectacular ignorance. Selah!

Y. M. C. A. AS AN ECONOMIC FACTOR.

Considering that the Y. M. C. A. building is about to throw open its doors to the public, it is high time we are asking ourselves what economic part the institution is to play in the lives of the ones for whom it was especially built, namely, the young Negro.

The institution should not appeal so much to the young man with a good home as it should to the one who is living in doubtful circumstances who does not enjoy the best advantages that this good home offers with its Christian and restraining influences. It will be the work of those connected with the Y. M. C. A. to see that this institution reaches this particular individual, the success of which depends very largely on the economic advantages that we offer to him and back up with the truth, remembering that to fall to offer the prospective member better advantages for less money than he could get elsewhere will surely render the whole institution an ever present burden on the people in the way of maintenance. This positively should not happen. The opening of its doors should close the gruelling financial campaign under which the people have struggled painfully though quite valiantly.

However, we believe that it will be so efficiently managed on such a good business basis that it will not prove a further burden but will be a self-supporting concern, meeting financial obligations effectively, and this, too, by giving to its members certain accommodations that would be truly economical to them. At the same time not interfering with worthy and legitimate business who draw from the same class. For this reason certain privileges should be confined to members only. Under this regime the place will be a "good hotel" for its members who want to pay for comfortable accommodations. A "home" for those who can appreciate pleasant surroundings and Christian influences. And a "meeting place" for those who can not resist the enticing auxiliaries of the gymnasium. The last should never outweigh the first two. The concern should by no means be construed as a commercial proposition but by all means should pay the officials promptly, including especially the janitors and other help. If there is one office sacred in this world it is that of "cleaning up," and any person performing this solemn duty should be promptly paid. On a whole we can see no good reason why this institution will not help the colored people of Kansas City and solve many of the important problems in the lives of young men. If in the future it only realizes half of its possibilities in the great power of human uplift the sacrifices of the people will have been sweetly justified.

C. A. STARKS.

Betty & Sam's Little Corner

THEY SAY

—That all that glitters is not gold.

—That a great many Negroes want their names in print but never want to pay for the paper.

—That brother Nick Chiles is in considerable since the defeat of Governor Hodges. Oh wirra, wirra.

—That a certain teacher wanted to attend the State Teachers' Association at St. Joseph, but her salary was mortgaged up to the minute and she couldn't raise the necessary two plunks. Too bad.

—That if parents and teachers would desist from using the offensive term "nigger" in their daily conversations they would not be shocked by hearing the children using it so promiscuously on the streets. Remember reformation must come from within.

—That at a recent wedding here when the contracting parties stood before the minister and he asked in clear but solemn tones, "Does anyone have any reason why this man should not take this woman in the bonds of wedlock," the assembled audience was startled to hear a weak but firm voice say—"Yes, I have," and a slender, was-faced young woman made her way through the gaping crowd to the spot where the minister stood. Looking at her intently the minister said, "What reason have you that this man should not marry this woman; speak now or forever hold your peace." "This reason," said she, and raising the shawl with which her form was enveloped, she laid a six weeks' old lusty lumped chap in the intended bridegroom's arms and turned and made her way quickly out of the room. Consternation prevailed, the ceremony was stopped and the father of the bride and her two husky brothers asked the groom for an explanation, which he was unable to satisfactorily give, and after passing the baby to a lady standing near they proceeded for about twenty minutes to "wear him out," and when he finally made his escape unkempt and bedraggled to the outer darkness, they could hear him as he made a mile a minute down the road crying "Have mercy." Well it served him right, don't you think so?

Next week the program in detail will be printed.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

Our World's Week of Prayer began at the Yates Branch of the Young Women's Christian Association at Fifth and State avenue on Sunday, with Miss Myrtle Jackson in charge. Miss M. Frances Cross, National Field Secretary, and Mrs. Wm. Shaw Ward, Chairman of the National Field Committee, both of Denver, Colo., were the special speakers. The audience was thoroughly appreciative. The singing was good. Both speakers emphasized the importance of the Y. W. C. A. work in foreign fields. Many of the auditors cheerfully decided to give at least a birthday gift of 52 cents yearly to Miss Radford in Singapore. Miss Ida Godfrey presided at the piano. Come in next Sunday at 3:00 p. m.

It is a beautiful sight to see our Gymnasium classes in action on Saturday of each week. Well that's one of the things for which the Y. W. C. A. stands. Its object is to develop the girl mentally, morally, physically and spiritually. It stands ready to help each girl to make the most of life and to enjoy a good time in a safe and sane way. It is a beautiful sight to look into the faces of twenty-six happy girls at one time. These girls showed up to a good advantage to our National visitors last Saturday. They were so pleased. At least one hundred of these growing girls should enjoy this opportunity. The Y. W. C. A. does obliterate all class distinction and as Jane Addams said, "would mix them as the Lord does." ## HARRIS AN ASS.

Playing to the "Grand Stand" Says a Well Known Educator.

Just before the election of November 3 a circular was mailed all candidates to both branches of congress by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, a negro organization, asking where each candidate stood on the following:

Abrogation of the Fourteenth and Fifteenth amendments.

Segregation in the federal service. Segregation in the District of Columbia.

Anti-intermarriage laws.

Lynching.

Reduction of representation in the states that disfranchise the negro.

J. Silas Harris, president of the Negro National Educational congress, has given the Post a statement concerning the questions and measures, in which he says:

"The cost of printing, mailing and distribution of such a circular must have been considerable—far more than the issues it sought to inject merited or the financial condition of its promoters warranted. There is really no necessity for such an organization, since it increases rather than diminishes the feeling between the two races.

Up to the Negro.

"The final acceptance or rejection of the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments is a matter that rests almost entirely with the negro himself. He can so live as to make their annulment impossible or their abrogation imperative.

"The question of segregation in the federal service and in the District of Columbia is of trivial importance, and the enactment of one or both into laws would in no wise hinder the progress of the race.

"Jim Crow cars in the District of Columbia are no worse than Jim Crow cars in Texas, the Washington negro being no better than his kinsman in the Lone Star state.

"The most contemptible of all of the questions propounded is that which pertains to the anti-intermarriage laws; only the negro who is endeavoring to get away from his race opposes the passage of such a law. The principal contentions against such legislation are to be found among the negro school teachers, many of whom are colored only to the extent of drawing salary for misinstruction the negro youth, and who are, in the main, responsible for the restless condition of the race.

"All lawabiding citizens are unreservedly opposed to lynching, but the causes which lead thereto must be eliminated before lynching will become a thing of the past.

"The reduction of representation in those states in which the negro is disfranchised needs no argument. If the negro will prove himself worthy of those rights that he now has, he will soon have but little cause to complain of a denial of those rights to which he feels himself entitled."
